

Hot Water Music, 220 Years

i never wondered
i never bothered
i never cared what i wanted to be about i have more truth than lies to me (always wonder how to walk away) show me and help me fight it i can't seem to break this the bottle it rests in my hand who's gonna learn to break this who'll start the riots who's gonna break it down
i never wondered
i never bothered
i take the day
i'm severed and build what can be built on it
i have more truth than lies to me (always wondered how we fell this way) this makes me whole
(charge the body)
