

Hot Water Music, Home

I can close my eyes and see your lips move close to mine.
Hear your words so crystal clear with your breath in my ear.

Still So far away from you, it cuts so quick and clean.
Still so far away from you but I still want more.

I can close my lips before I taste ours soaked in wine.
Lay my head upon your breast and count your beats and smiles.

This is where the time stops and this is where it starts.
This is where we mend our broken hearts.
I'm on my way, can't stay away.
Since this love stings like it does over and again.
Again.

I'm on my way, I can't stay away.
Since this love stings like it does over and again.
I'm on my way, homeward bound.
Since this love stings like it does over and again and again.
I'm on my way, can't stay away.
Since this love stings like it does over and again and again.
