

Hot Water Music, She Takes It So Well

I've spent lifetimes waiting. let thousands go to wherever's needed Heard the secrets told, and she takes it so well, and she drinks it with no sugar or tears, and the door is closed.
My throat is bleeding and all these wants have burned,
and I have only turned only fell right through.
And she takes it so well, like this never was.
Like never problems, never solutions.
