

Hotline, Two Loves

Desire to run, desire to go away
I want to be another man, desire for a life that I've never known
I want to fly away from you.
I fly from you and I am happy
I feel that one day I will do it but something chains me here a dream, an illusion maybe not but I'm sure that what I do deeply runs through my veins.
Live music, true music inside me I've always heard but I've never sung now it's here, so good in front of me marvellous, wonderful, so beautiful.
I love her but I love you too sooner or later you'll be here I hope that one day not too far-off I can link these two things.
If I had you and her
I should be happy.
I wish that all this happens but now I'm here living on dreams and singing along our songs to make our hearts happy, no money in my hands but only wait for another tomorrow waiting for an hoping that inside me a man wakes up happy with you (two).
Glad of what, life has done to him and all that he has built up his happy man's wish, is only to ask for be yours fifty fifty.
Desire to run, desire to go away
I want to be another man,
desire for a life that I've never known
I want to fly away from you.
I fly from you and I am happy
I feel that one day I will do it
but something chains me here
a dream, an illusion maybe not
but I'm sure that what I do
deeply runs through my veins.
