

Hour, Sapphire

everything seems much clearer now i've reach the seventh sense inside my mind i'm flying through space flying through time flying away from the sapphire in the lunar sky

slowly i begin to feel nothing as i approach a distant new world welcome aboard flight 666 it's time for you to return (kicking, screaming) a peculiar fear takes hold of you suddenly things have changed

i'm spinning through space i'm spinning through time my head explosions are wasting my mind
the sapphire has eclipsed the sun step inside this painting to see the past to look behind to see what's catching you one hundred years from now only i will live then he turned into the lizard king

my head explosions are wasting my mind the night sky is falling on me
the sapphire has eclipsed the sun

spinning spinning spinning....
