Hour, Twilight Eyes

I looked into your twilight eyes I could see through your white lies So I decided late last night That it was time for me to die Don't cry, not that you would cry No don't cry I wouldn't cry for you And I was twice bitten but no not shy I looked into your twilight eyes You were dead but so was I And I won't meet you in the sky What was there to live for? In this dying world of ours? So cut me up and eat me raw But now this is my final hour Why should I have to live I have nothing for life to give That's why I'm going to end it all and blow my brains over the wall It's over now I can't live on But the world will thrive now I am gone Bridges build no turning back The future now seems very black There was no one I could turn to No one except for you Now your dead and now your cold And to the devil my heart is sold Now I'm dead and soon be burned I've gone now but I'll return But when I'm gone and you'll be warned That hell on earth will soon be done Don't follow me You'll never find me I'll be hiding in the abyss Crying, singing sweet-boy.
