

Hourcast, Freeze

Faded pictures of lives we lived; do you remember?

One decision left everything frozen in time

Always

Do you remember?

What was promised?

Was it destiny to you?

Was it heaven?

You can't see

All invisible to you

Can't turn back from the path that you laid

It's how souls get lost and betrayed

This fragile thing we held so tightly to

Unraveling and closing in on you

On you

Do you remember?

What was promised?

Was it destiny to you?

Was it heaven?

You can't see

All invisible to you

To you, to you, to you

It's not meant to be

But if there is a will, there is a way

It's not meant to be

But if there is a will, there is a way

For us all

Us all (x3)
