

How To Dress Well, What's Up

I wanna know your mouth, I wanna see things the way you see them.
You told me 'trust your lust'—
Yea, now I know what's up :)

That it is up to us to see what we are made of—
Yea if you make a mess of me I wouldn't change one thing.
Yea babe it's up to us to see what we are made of—
When my body's gone tell em what made me sing

Say it was you. I said it was you.
You.
You.

I said: 'I love your thoughts, the way they wander with such energy.
I also love your thighs—
Yea, now you know what's up :)

Yea I said what I said and I meant it— I know that you feel it, but I feel like you could change at any
Been by your side since the beginning— if you gotta run yea you know that I'ma be here when you

I really feel like you know me!
And that's just the craziest thing.
If there's something you wanna show me, go ahead and show me baby.

If you call babe, I'm calling you back—
I'll be there to catch ya, no won't let it fall through the cracks—
Say what you want and I promise to calmly react—
I'm not trying to be like dad— I don't wanna act like a man—
Won't make you think you're feeling shit no one understands—
At least this is what I have planned— I'll say it again and again
And again and again— and again.
