

Howard Jones, Two Souls

Whatever happened to the value of our love
I've seen you change
I've seen it coming slowly, these changes
You're not the same

It's not too late to start over
It's not too late to turn around
What are the things important to you?
Can't be the money
Well I got news for you

Two Souls (should be two souls together)
Two Souls (in the life that we planned)
But you're working obsession is squeezing me
Out of your world

I'd rather live in a doll's house in a small street
Where it always rains
You kid yourself you're working all for me
But older kids play with bigger trains

It's not too late to start over
It's not too late to turn 'round
It's like we live in separate worlds
Can't buy the lost time
I want my share of you
I want my share of you

Two Souls (should be two souls together)
Two Souls (in the life that we planned)
But you're working obsession is squeezing me
Out of your world

Can't buy the lost time
I want my share of you
I want my share of you

Two Souls (should be two souls together)
Two Souls (in the life that we planned)
Out of your world
