

Hugh X. Lewis, No Chance For Happiness

No chance for happiness no need to live a lie no need to smile again no need to try
You found another love and you left to me to cry
No chance for happiness since you said goodbye
Each day will be the same I know what each will bring Because my love for you is one thing I can't change
You found another love and you left me to cry
No chance for happiness since you said goodbye
Each day will be the same...