

Hugh X. Lewis, Nothing Takes The Place Of You

I moved your pictures from my wall and I replaced them with large and small
And each new day finds me so blue nothing takes the place of you
I read your letters one by one and I still love you when it's all said and done
And oh my darling I'm so blue cause nothing oh nothing takes the place of you
As I write this letter it's raining on my window pane
And I feel the need of you cause without you nothing seems the same
So I'll wait till you're home again I love you but I'm all alone
And oh my darling I'm so blue cause nothing oh nothing takes the place of you
As I write this letter...
