

Human Drama, Goodnight Sweetheart

Sweetheart, can you hear me?
I'm a hundred million miles from you today
All we treasured, all we promised
Flew out the windows of our hearts
A love we'd never seen so strong
I guess, baby, life was just too much for us

CHORUS

All the tears I cried for you
All the hope I never knew
To think I'll never hold your hand
Touch your face or look into
Your eyes again
The way we looked
In no other eyes before
And never will
Again

Darling, it's not all right now
Don't misunderstand what I say
My greatest fear stands before me
And if blood is life, you are my blood
The reason I wake up
Only you lie next to me no more

CHORUS

Why did we fall?
Was it just the human curse we failed to beat?
To our weakness we turned a blind eye
Our innocence led us to the trap
With flesh and bones we could not lift out
The heart we worked so hard to build

CHORUS

Goodnight, sweetheart, goodnight
Goodnight, sweetheart, goodnight
Goodnight, sweetheart, goodnight
