

Human Drama, The Mystery

I will wait until all is uncovered
I place all the pieces discovered in hand
The question whose answer escapes

In time, all the hate will diminish
I grow from the painful resistance
And seek the answer my question demands

CHORUS

The mystery keeps haunting me
Every clue needs another, it seems
High and low I will search, all my time it is worth
To learn what happiness means

To Hell with the pain I've been given
I must tie the hands of the villain
Myself, the first step on the journey ahead
Through lies all the truth is discovered
Each day, how the wall became tougher to climb
This I will never forget

CHORUS

I step with no safety net
Let my tears be no cry for help
And never again will you see hurt
In my eyes

CHORUS

To learn what happiness means
