Human Fortress, The Valiant

[L: Parcharidis / M: Parcharidis, Marquardt]

Glorious King - True light and clarity - Almighty God of lord - If it pleases you Faithful aid to my companion

For I have not seen him since the night came - And soon it will be dawn

Maid listen, his sweat, flesh and blood - Nourish the barren plan His bones enrich the harvest - And his ashes the desired yield

[BRIDGE]

Ohe... The legend spreads far across the land For he's the valiant - With praise and fame - Shall men speak'about his name

[CHORUS]

He never spoke his final wish - No gave he clue his further plan They buried him knights honours full - Earned by this valiant man He never spoke his final wish Nor gave he clue his further plan - Earned this valiant man

The peasant's life of work and toil - Spent in the workshops and on the soil Bringing forth the baron's gain - While for themselves but aches and pain He spent them strength and swore to fight He gave his life for the poor men's right When their hopes where high and the youthful dream As warm as the sunlight on yonder stream

The minstrels will voice songs of him - Of chivalry and fame And praise shall always follow him - When men speak about his name
