

Human Radio, Electromagnetism

(R. Rice/K. Kennedy)

i'm a modern man looking for modern love cookieookenookie is all that i'm thinking of got a hot little number flashing on my screen think i'll leave a little message on her answering machine emotion's out of style
we got something stronger electromagnetism
all this love n affection just leaves me cold you know a heart of steel will always beat a heart of gold n when it's all said and done i can forget the name although the software's different the current feels the same emotion's out of style
some nights i lay awake and wonder about these feelings i've never known so many people at my fingertips tell me
why am i alone?
