

Human Radio, Hole In My Head

(R. Rice)

i say "hey"
you say "what";
five minutes later
you're calling me a pain in the butt n i'm out the door thanks to something that poured out of this hole in my head
you say "why";
i say "coz";
now i'm not really sure just what it was that i was talking about this stuff just spouts
out of this hole in my head there's a crack in my windowpane wind is whistling through my brain and i feel no pain yet i feel ashamed of all the things that i said so now i'm telling you "wait";
you say "why";
i say "baby look me straight in the eye coz that's where the truth will lie the rest of it flies
out of this hole in my head";
i lie alone on my big brass bed the light is shining right through my head i listen back with dread to the things instead that i should've said so now i'm telling you "goodbye";
you say "what";
i say "sticking with me is gonna drive ya nuts"; but you say that you don't mind you like the heart that you find here in this hole in my head
