

Human Radio, My First Million

(R. Rice)

when i make my first million think i'll buy myself some happiness if there's a sale on satisfaction i might just have to stock up maybe i'll buy myself some muscles an a california lifestyle an irresponsible ferrari an ex-cheerleader to knock up n if there is some left over i might buy a leather jacket and a brand new harley-davidson and a fifth of cuervo gold n then i'd ride on out to reno lose the rest in some casino n like any good like los angeleno keep my creditors on hold
when i make my first million
any day now
when i make my first million i will try hard to deserve it and like a good boy i will serve it out to those who need it most the lawyers the accountants politicians and executives the mighty u.s. government the father son and holy ghost
when i make my first million
any day now
meanwhile i toil in my obscurity and my peanut butter sandwiches n when i make my first million i'll look back on this and grin now that greed is back in fashion i'll rebel with real compassion or else that stockpiled satisfaction will soon be turning to chagrin
when i make my first million
any day now