

Hundred Inch Shadow, life is not fair why is this world so unfair? i ask, i've got no answers why so many people are so poor? i don't know why so many kids without a future i can't find a reason for so many people life is only pain people starving all their lifes they are left without a chance to live their lifes in a better way we can't imagine how lucky we are having everything in abundance i wonder why and i find no answers why things happen? why people suffer? the only answer is that life is not fair

kids with guns in their hands that were left without a chance to live their lifes in a different way we can't imagine how lucky we are being able to decide about our lifes
