

Hybrid, Blackout

No electricity...

Like a cloud, ushered in by wind.
You where just a reaction to my confusion.
A hybrid of hundreds of trouble.
People felt us connect and ran for shelter.

And there are blackouts in LA tonight.
There's an evident lack of light tonight.
An increase in disire, youll catch me,
Hanging out on the wire,
Cutting the voltage to your power line.
(And the lights go, out)

No electricity...

Like a love, unshered in by bliss.
You came to me like a realisation.
But your look chould sharpen a knife.
Now all i hear is tearing of paper.

And there are blackouts in LA tonight.
An evident lack of light tonight,
An increase in disire, youll catch me,
Hanging out on the wire,
Cutting the voltage to your power line.
(And the lights go, out)

No electricity...

Now you, cannot affect me.
I feel, no electricty.
Now you, cannot control me.
I feel, no electricity.

No electricity...

Now you, cannot affect me.
I feel, no electricty.
Now you, cannot control me.
I feel, no electricity.

And the lights go, out.

And there are blackouts in LA tonight.
There's an evident lack of light tonight.
An increase in disire, youll catch me,
Hanging out on the wire,
Cutting the voltage to your power line.

And the lights go, out.
