

Hybrid, If I Survive (2003 Remix)

Breathing shallow,
I'm slipping away.
Hang in the gallows,
I'm starting to pray.

But what if I survive,
And live to tell the truth.
Imagine my surprise,
To find me living and so very much, alive.

But I swear you're going down if I, survive.
Yet I swear you're going down if I, survive.
But I swear you're going down if I...

How careful it was planned,
To do away with me.
So kill me if you can,
Words won't make me bleed.

But I swear you're going down if I, survive.
Yet I swear you're going down if I, survive.
But I swear you're going down if I...

So what if I survive,
And live to tell the truth.
Imagine my surprise,
To find me living and so very much, alive.

But I swear you're going down if I, survive.
Survive...
Survive...
Survive...
