

Hybrid, True to Form (Acoustic Version)

It's a little too easy to live and learn.
But there those breaks are scarce.
So take some time out,
To look back and see how you faired.

The right is always wrong,
And the short's always the long.
The hardest thing about refrain,
Is now i can only save face.

To deny yourself is, so true to form,
You spend most of your days wishing you where never born.
To deny yourself is, so true to form,
You spend most of your days wishing you where never born.
