

Hypocrisy, Edge Of Madness

realize I should have never of been born
In this world, where money talks
The honesty of systems can be won
Where the power of knowledge is lighter than lies

We're closing our eyes
How could we be so blind, that we can't see what's going on

(Chorus:)
The (whole) worlds (on) an edge of madness
It's burning down with frustration
We're never satisfied, it's never enough
We cant get enough

Trying hard to make an extra buck
To roll ourselvs in ??
So we have whatever we can take
Lighted by the darker side
A disease that burns through our minds..

(Chorus x2)

Its never enough...
(I realize i should of never been born)
(The honesty of systems can't be won)

The whole worlds on an edge of madness
Its burning down with frustration
We're never satisfied, it's never enough
We can't get enough

It's never enough
