

Hypocrisy, The North Wind

Beware of the North Wind
It will take you away
(Murdered the same)
Tear apart what's left of your body
You will be left to rot on your knees

You will stop breathing
As you pass away
Suffocate
Your skin turns blue

The eyeballs roll in the back of your head
The North Wind will (pick) you up and take you
A journey to hell

The winds of evil swept over the Earth.
Killing all those worthless souls.
War across, the globe gather around for the storms.
Lords of death, watching us through the words of evil.

The Earth will be, dark as dirt.
No existence of life, just cold and emptiness.
You will stop breathing, as you pass away.
Suffocate.
Your skin turns blue.
