

I Am I, See You Again

They say never in a thousand years
Do we shed the tears
Do we know the price of war
Forever and a single day
Will it end this way
I never ask you for more

Didn't have the words to say
Like a child at play
You are the one I adore
Spread your wings into the sky
As you say goodbye
You make me come back for more

I'll see you again, I'll see you again
Gone are these days together
The seasons remain, a lifetime the same
Who wants to live forever

Tears will get you sympathy
Only you and me
I can feel it more and more
Nothing to replace our shame
But a burning flame
It melts you to the core

Never will you feel my pain
Will it be the same
One day I'll be back for more
Standing in the pouring rain
Only me to blame
Let my ship sail from the shore

I'll see you again, I'll see you again
Gone are these days together
The seasons remain, a lifetime the same
Who wants to live forever

Don't let it pass you by
I want to see you try
There's no escaping this
I'll hold my head up high

Never will I feel the pain
Will it be the same
One day I'll be back for more
Crying in the pouring rain
Only me to blame
Let my ship sail from the shore

I'll see you again, I'll see you again
Gone are these days together
The seasons remain, a lifetime the same
Who wants to live forever
