

I Haunt Wizards, Along Came Polly

I am not as I am portrayed, darling
I stand minutes away from discovery
A victim of social pressure
There ain't no pleasure
Idle hands start work tonight
The schedule's too tight
I can't compare, no
I loom into the stars
But I can never have them
I can never have them
In my life I don't have anyone
To get to know and it will probably stay that way
I know I'm not afraid to take away darling
I'm an anomaly, as you undress what's left
I think I'm going home, think I'm going home
I don't make sense anymore
I'm pacing the floor
Thinking what I'm supposed to say to you
I'm wasting my time now
I'm wasting my time now
In my life I don't have anyone
To get to know and it will probably stay that way
I know in my life I don't have anyone
To get to know and it will probably stay that way
I know I'm not half as worth your time of day
When it could be all spent with that idiot
My stars can't compare to his universe, I give up
I never said I don't not need anyone
You're the one that I thought I could trust
