

I Nine, Change Nothing

Wake up, but I haven't been asleep
Wondering, did it happen just for me
Change, nothing
Change, nothing

Bleeding, yeah, but the time won't ink it down
Holding on, holding on to these places we think we've found
And change, ohh, nothing
Change, nothing

Burn like we've never seen rain before
And move like we've never been felt before
And I would change not a thing about it, no...
And change, nothing

Wake them up, but they haven't been asleep
Moving time or the morning's starting to breathe
A part of us will never leave
A kiss for you while you dream
And I would change not a thing, change nothing
Nothing about it at all
