

I See Stars, I Am Jack's Smirking Revenge

I know you didn't mean this
As far as I know
Dream of me, fear of waking, sense of closeness
Goes to show
Your looking for love in all the wrong places
Seeing empty faces, awkward situations
Everything you said was a lie
Who are you pretending to be tonight
(I know you didn't mean this, but something was wrong)
Trying not to think too hard
I won't wait for you
Times just getting overrated
And this room is getting colder and I know
It's only once you've lost everything, you are free to do anything
Drain the rainbow, drain this one straight from my mind
A part of me that you'll never see
I wanna see where the devil sleeps
All eyes on me, depressants are just the beginning
All I loved, I loved alone
All eyes on me, this won't end with a happy ending
All I loved, I loved alone
Love is dead!
Trying not to think too hard
I won't wait for you
Times just getting overrated
And this room is getting colder and I know
It's only once you've lost everything, you are free to do anything
And every single word you say
How could I believe
