IAMX, You can be happy

You walked into the world, As a super human boy and girl, oh, And the blinking of your eyes, I was born and sold by your manifesto. It's a cruel world for small things, With eyes, so curious, But in between, you can be happy. You put me in a cage, With a daily maze of flesh and rage, And I'll follow any truth, I won't let you go, I want every tomorrow. And now I am afraid, You will blossom soon and grow and change, There is so much I can't take, But I will understand, I will open my hand. You can be happy, You can be happy, You can be happy, You can be happy, There's an open window, And I can go through, To the life of others, There's nothing I can't do. There's an open window, And I can go through, To the life of others, There's nothing I can't find. You can be happy, You can be happy, You can be happy, You can be happy!
