

Ian Astbury, Tonight (Illuminated)

the city looks bright tonight dreams of thrills and astral light variety is the sweet taste of life a chance to trip the light there's a feeling in the air amongst the people yeah i swear all majestic in the light this fantastic life should be revealed tonight tonight tonight tonight if you've ever been alone find some love in the night black neon hangover in the morning slightly dazed but i'm still smiling just a small price to pay to wash my tears away and i know i'm here to stay tonight tonight tonight if you've ever been alone find some love in the night
tonight tonight tonight if you've ever lost your life find some love in the night if you're going down or if you're going around again you better loosen up if you're going down or if you're coming around again you better loosen tonight tonight tonight if you've ever been alone find some love in the night
