

Ian Eskelin, Throw It Away

I tried to fill the hole with Baywatch beauties
I tried to fill it up with Juji Fruit
I tried to fill it with a happy ending
I tried to fill it with a business suit

I&#039;m with stupid most of the time
I pay for the things that you can&#039;t really buy

Throw it away, it&#039;s not the real thing
Throw it away, it&#039;s all a lie
Nothing but God can fill that hole inside
Nothing else is worthy of our lives

It&#039;s like the currency of Argentina
It&#039;s like the buzz about a dot com stock
I bought a lot of things to make me happy
I bought a lot of ways to belly flop

I&#039;m with stupid most of the time
I cling to the things that&#039;ll never be mine

An observation on a reputation
An observation on a pedigree
An observation on the observation
Of money, muscle, and celebrity

Throw it away, it&#039;s not the real thing
Throw it away, it&#039;s all a lie
Nothing but God can fill that hole inside
Nothing else is worth our passion
Nothing else is worthy of our lives
