

iann dior, House On Fire

Come set this house on fire
All of the memories, yeah all of the misery Let all of the flames get higher Take all your shit and leave I know you're not missing me I climb mountains, cross valleys and oceans to find my way back home to you Now, you're miles away

(you)
don't need to know your reasons if you're leaving, girl just leave, then yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah (you)
I'll take this to the grave I see no other way

come set this house on fire
all of the memories, yeah, all of the misery
let all the flames get high take all your s and leave I know you're not missing me ashes to ashes, then we turn to smoke, and I guess that's just how this thing goes so come set this house on fire now that I'm so damn tired tired of all the b girl tired of the games you play tired of the running round going up and down, but we stay in place I don't even know what's left you just want to take my breath leave me guessing you're next, yeah, walking around with a hole in my chest

(you)
(you)
I'll take this to the grave I see no other way

come set this house on fire
all of the memories, yeah, all of the misery
let all the flames get high take all your s and leave I know you're not missing me So, come set this house on fire
all of the memories, yeah, all of the misery
let all the flames get high
take all your s and leave I know you're not missing me ashes to ashes, then we turn to smoke, and I guess that's just how this thing goes so come set this house on fire now that I'm so damn tired come set this house on fire come set this house on fire, yeah
