Ice Ages, The Enemy Inside

It's growing inside you

It's taking you beyond your world, abandoned ever since your birth It's bringing you nightmares, it's calling your last hour; your wish to stop this neverending curse It's killing all your senses

It seals all doors that lead out away from darkened cold and empty cells Forsaken and forgotten

Forbidden formless lifeless you're doomed to stay alone within this jail [Refrain]

This wish to go

This lust to leave

And never to be

And never to believe it

The pain you have

Inside your mind

Will poison your soul

Will carve deep scars within your heart

Your empty days

Eternal sin

Forever disgraced

Forever compromising

Immortal soul

Your endless road

A torment so cruel

You'll never feel alive

[Strophe]

Your peace is so fragile

It's fractured into pieces a universe that crumbles into dust

The enemy within

That daily drains your brain. Your only wish, your curse, your only lust

[Refrain]

This wish to go

This lust to leave

And never to be

And never to believe

Immortal soul

You are the one

Your enemy inside

You'll never feel alive
