</lyrics>

the motion of imprisonment in a bed of glass that is first broken by the fumbling of a lady a loose collection of feathers with a tail of soliday that almost screams the innocence desired at night dancing through freedom and lies in the mood of depression fragile puzzle pieces that break away from this course

Kiss shining, we're kissing in my eyes
Melting away even the flower petals in our way
Make me shining, changing into the most exciting colors
That first shone in a vision

the field of view excels the dimension of panorama a perfect mimesis that can only tremble a cheap touch whose reaction is to look for secrets you want to see them even if they are coldly obscene a sea of gushing pleasure that alters the colors of the rainbow that strikes into this world adding shadows to the fringed game

Kiss shining, imitating loneliness
Cutting into space with entwined regret
Make me shining, fragments of my scattered heart
A radiance that surpasses hope

Red soaked fingertips dye the atmosphere with fluttering butterfly tears
And all is turned to sand... Shining, make you cry

Kiss shining, we're kissing in my eyes
Melting away even the flower petals in our way Kill me shining, changing into the most exciting colors
That first shone in a vision

Please don't cryin', imitating loneliness
Cutting into space with entwined regret
Make me shining, fragments of my scattered heart
A radiance that surpasses hope
