

Ida, Maybelle

look at me
am i still the one you wanted me to be when we were talking did i hear you say that you still love me what if we could do it all again would you still look right through me then what if you could make another life would you still have me by your side

look at me
everything was clear i wanted you to see but dont answer with a word only with your eyes