

Idle Sons, Getaway

Did you think it was over
Before it could even begin
Did you think that I held you
For too long
And wore my welcome thin
Did you know I was watching
From the window
In this shadow play
Could you tell
I was haunted by the things
I couldn't say

Don't look back
I can't hang on
You were mine
Now summer's gone
Falling for it,
Even when I shouldn't
Why won't you stay
You made your getaway
Falling for it,
Even when I shouldn't
Why won't you stay
You made your getaway

Did you think it was easy
For me to watch you walk away
Do you think that I'm crazy
Neurotic, drunken renegade
Did you think I was looking for something
That was right in front of me
Could you tell I was haunted
By the things you couldn't see

Don't look back
I can't hang on
You were mine
Now summer's gone
Falling for it,
Even when I shouldn't
Why won't you stay
You made your getaway
Falling for it,
Even when I shouldn't
Why won't you stay
You made your getaway

Everytime I turn around
You're right in front of me
But are you real
Is this real
Tell me what am I supposed to do
To get you to believe
This is real
I am real
We are real

Falling for it,
Even when I shouldn't
Why won't you stay
You made your getaway
Falling for it,
Even when I shouldn't

Why won't you stay
You made your getaway
