

IdleMiND, Crawl Back

I've died a thousand times
I've tried to read your rhymes
And all you said was true
I don't mean nothing to you

So why live on like this?
Why don't we just confess?
I just want you to see
You don't mean nothing to me

Nothing at all
And pride you'll find
Behind my wall

And I won't give in to this charade
'Cause you're not worth, even worth my hate
And for a fact, I won't be around, if you crawl back

I hate those who lie
Who cheat and stab the back
But you're not worth nothing
You're much lower than that

I'm starting to regret
All the nice things I said
You took more than you gave
But I found out too late

I won't be there
You threw it away
You didn't care

And I won't give in to this charade
'Cause you're not worth, even worth my hate
And for a fact, I won't be around, if you crawl back
