

Ignacy, Lullaby

you can let it go and see the world you can run along and keep it quiet
hide whatever lies beneath your chest
seek whatever sparks
your deep desires

run your fingertips along my hands gently quit while im ahead of your fire

after midnight's shadows fall you're free
stir me from my sleep to say goodbye

godspeed, it's your road I'll keep holding on as you disappear in silence

waves will come and go they'll keep moving on
as I disappear in silence

when the sun goes down
you recall the sound
our lullaby

we recall the sound
