Imagine Dragons, The Unknown

woman help me you turn my head in circles mama blessed me with magnet eyes for purple oh so let me show you something good

Pastor, Preacher I want to say I'm sorry nice to meet ya I think my eyes are starry pledge allegiance to my only

auntie Mara I think you know my reasons I was a product of everything in season oh so heavy set me free again oh my papa if all the world could know you you could stop a thousand wars across the globe oh I miss ya show them something good
