

Imani Coppola, Before I Lost My Memory

Before I Lost My Memory

Every little thing weighs me down

I gotta bump on my head from trying to jump one foot off the ground

I cant remember my past but I know for sure you were there

My heart is not free, My heart is not free, I guess the hearts not supposed to be.

Hypnotize me, make me bark like a bunny

Got a pain in my brain from the microwave, Jesus Presley , Elvis saves

Hypnotize me, so I can remember how life used to make sense to me, before I lost my memory

I wanna burn this apartment down, take what Ive learned, take what Ive earned and watch it burn to the ground

I cant predict my future, but I know for sure you will be there

my heart is not free, my heart is not free, I guess the hearts not supposed to be

Hypnotize me, make me bark like a bunny

got a pain in my brain from the microwave, Jesus Presley, Elvis saves

Andy Warhol was in my dream, he always sat to the left of me, he was my doctor and I was sick, I t he looked at me with smiling eyes and told me I was fine.
