

Imani Coppola, Song For The Seeker

Song For The Seeker

Doo doo doo

Let me tell you a story bout a friend of mine hes got his eyes wide open but he's still blind hes got theories equations and some intelligence but he cant figure out how to put on his own pants come to think of it hes a lot like you waitin for the world to make your dreams come true If opportunity knocked youd probably lock the door you gotta go out to find what youre lookin for Heres lookin at you kid always knew youd come through kid I really hope that youll find it, whatever youre lookin for its such a shame Its such a shame the way you live youre life no one to blame no where to go nobody wants you aint that a shame You cant even take a look at your self cause your heads too far up your ass youre one dumb genius jumpin the turn style when you got easy pass you know the world is yours your path is clear but your gettin in your own way just get off the couch get out the house go out and cease the day

Repeat chorus

chorus B

I used to be a terrified little girl afraid of the people afraid of the world afraid to make all my dreams come true I just dont want that to happen to you
