

Imogen Heap, Not You Again

Oh, no, not you again

Please don't tell me
You're here to stay
See I don't want to hear
Go away, go away

I like piano
I like to tv
Yeah I like my style, ya know, and I like to dream
I like color of the rainbow, they like to please me
But I don't like you, I don't like you, I don't like you

I've told you before and I'll tell you again, and again, and again
Can't you get it thru your head
You're not my friend
And I've tried to be nice but now I'm not going to lie
So I suggest you leave before I make you cry, bye

I like to be sulky
I like being vile
I like to make you angry, I like it all the while
I like to know that you're hated, it makes me smile
But I don't like you, I don't like you, I don't like you

Oh, no, not you again
Oh, no, not you again
Why, why, why, why me?
Why, why, why, why me?

I like where I'm living
I like my view
I like anyone who detests you as I do
So I must find everyone including me too
'cause I don't like you, I don't like you, I don't like you

I'm sorry
Oh, no, not you again
Oh, no, not you again
I don't like, I don't like, I don't like, I don't like, I don't like you
I don't like, I don't like, I don't like you
Oh, no, not you again
I don't like, I don't like, I don't like, I don't like, I don't like you
I don't like, I don't like, I don't like you

I don't have to give a reason
I don't have to give a reason, if I don't want to

Hello? I said hello.
