

Impending Doom, Silence The Oppressors

To the following Christians listen closely.

We bring our light to a new realm, a realm you dare not enter, passing judgment behind stone walls.

We will crush your walls that dictate where our ministry goes, don't you ever tell me I'm using God.

I'm not a heretic, I'm not a hypocrite; those insults make me sick from the ones I have fellowship with.

We aren't doing this for our own, but for one name holy and alone.

These venues are our church, we are the gospel in the darkness, and this is our exaltation.

We are the gospel in the darkness; we bring our light to a new realm, a realm you dare not enter, people.

Are you listening!!!

We'll crush the walls that dictate where our ministry goes, this is our church, this is our worship,

GORSHIP!
