

Imperative Reaction, Arrogance

Damaged and forgotten
Thanks to you
You fucking liar
It's drowning in the maze
That used to be desire
So let the mediocrity
Tear it all apart again
And let your arrogance prevail
Fractured delusions
Where everything depends on you
Weakened by the habit
Of never coming through
So many questions
You cannot answer
But this will never change

Shut down and pushed below
This numbing silence cannot last
I feel tomorrow fall
Back into the failures of the past
This rusted vault of lies
This distorted compromise
This reminder of what it was
Everything you gave away

Damaged and forgotten
Thanks to you
You fucking failure
It's dying in the haze
That used to be a fire
So let the actuality
Lose it all and fall again
And let your obstinance prevail
Fractured conclusions
Where everything relies on you
Weakened by the habit
Of never coming through
So many questions
You cannot answer
But this will never change.
