

Imperative Reaction, Dissolve

I wish you could know
I wish you could see
I wish I could show you
What it was to be
Alive before we knew
The word that you now
As we endure what is to come
Please know I'm sorry
For all that we have done

Time won't wait as we dissolve
Giving in to a fate that won't absolve
The lies we told ourselves
To minimize the pain
Our denial of the truth
Leaves us with the blame

I wanted so much more
I wanted everything
Now what can we show for
All we used to be
We are too far from the shore
Drowning in debris
As we endure what is to come
Please know I'm sorry
For all that we have done
