Imperative Reaction, Ruined

Somewhere along the line
You decided you deserved this
You gave into all your failures
And somehow
You thought time would put you back together
I have fallen back to nothing
No support can keep me standing
All is ruined all has failed
All your shattered words have ruined me

You said you'd never let me down
You said you'd never betray me
You said you'd never let me fall
Now your emptiness surrounds me
You said you'd never let me down
You said you'd never betray me
You said you'd never let me fall
But your emptiness destroyed me

Somewhere along the line
You decided you were worthless
You gave into all the pressure
And somehow
You thought time could put you back together
