

In This Moment, Prayers

Breathing in and breathing out
My head leaned back my hands are tied
I stand in here alone I scream, questions why
Days slip by and nights I taste
These memories run through my veins
Injecting me with one last kiss, screaming why
This medication, can't save me
This suffocation, takes hold of me
I wanted to believe in all of this
I wanted to believe in you
All I am, all I have
Leads me down these roads again
Take my hand, show me the way
never bring me back here
Determination, is pushing me
And Perseverance, is what I bleed
I wanted to believe in all of this
I wanted to believe in you
All I am, all I have
Leads me down these roads again
Take my hand, show me the way
And never bring me back here
These are my unanswered prayers
The time has come for me to say goodbye
God please hear me, calling
All I am, all I have
Leads me down these roads again
Take my hand, show me the way
And never bring me back here
These are my unanswered prayers
the time has come for me to say goodbye
God please hear me, calling
