

In This Moment, You Always Believed

I think back on the years we shared
All the times you stood be me
All the pain you wiped away
All the things you ever said
I think back how you carried me
And you never once have doubted me
And you were my
My hero through it all
I thank you for the moments of your life
And never giving up on me
And you held me through it all
And you never let me fall
And you let me fly away
And you always believed
I think back how you overcame
All the times you could have slipped
The way you fought the winds of change
All the times your wings were clipped
You taught me how to reach the stars
You taught me how to heal my scars
And you were my
My hero through it all
I thank you for the moments of your life
And never giving up on me
And you held me through it all
And you never let me fall
And you let me fly away
And you always believed in me
