

Indigo Girls, You Left It Up To Me

When i let you go, i cursed myself with empty hands. strong enough to watch you walk, but not eno

You can say that i don't care, i don't care. you can hope that we still have something left to share. j

I finally found someone that i can hold. you ask me to defend myself, as if i shouldn't be so bold. ge

You can say that i don't care, i don't care. you can hope that we still have something left to share. j

What are you gonna do? I can't salvage any truth for you. Everybody else already knows and it hur

You don't need my hands to help you understand, you don't need to hear my voice (you have no ch