

Insane Clown Posse, Who's Guilty?

The day has come, the time of reckoning. Who will perish in dreaded hell and whose soul will be content within the pleasures of heaven? looking past the words spoken with a wicked tongue and looking past the evil deeds done within one's life but instead looking into the conscious of man.

What is the real evil that seems to plague mankind? who are the real demons that walk this earth? is it those whose minds have become devious because of a lifetime spent inside of a caged hell, or is it those who invented this caged hell years ago and have done nothing to help destroy it yet? who's guilty, frankenstein or the doctor who created him? the sword or the man who has slain with it? which is the real evil, the man who kills another for food or the man who does not share his food to avoid the killing? while you sit in judgement of a criminal you may very well be the one who's guilty. guilty of greed. deception and hate those who are rejected at the gates of heaven shall be dragged off into the pits of hell viciously torn from this life by the non-living, the phantoms of the dead. these beasts take the form of a demented carnival that a wicked, dark, circus led by one. one who was created by your own evil ways. one who will judge your very fate. the one known only as.....the ringmaster.
