Insomnium, Bitter End

The silent moment right before the Dusk fades away I open my eyes but the darkness stavs Nightfrost covers the brittle flowers Around you I realize that what I dreamt is true Beauty beyond words My dearest one Her light burns my eyes She is all mine By these frosty waters I rest by Your side I hold you in my arms for the last Time If only I could tell you how I need Your love If only you had seen what I kept in My heart Now it's the time of grieving Reign of sorrow in my heart All i have ever wanted Is today forever gone Bitter is the nightly silence Bitter till the end of time The sky grown ever darker Through now she"ll always be mine I hold you on my arms so tight I kiss your frozen lips for this last Time For the first time